October is just around the corner, and we hope you are enjoying the (surprisingly sunny and bright) start to the fall season! To our new students, it has been a great pleasure meeting you during our orientation events. We hope you are more or less settled in to your journey at EDST. Remember, your GAAs are always available for a chat if you need any assistance.

Coming up this month, we have an exciting programme in store for you! Dr. Sam Rocha is going to host a workshop on the use of social media in academia, and Dr. Petra Mikulan will be sharing her thoughts on parenting in graduate school. We also have 2 social events on the calendar—one with our neighbours LLED, and one organised by SCPE. Check out our event calendar below for more details, or visit our blog. What's more, if you are interested to organise any events for your peers, do not hesitate to reach out to us!
