Call for Presentation Proposals

Conference Organizers: John Egan (University of Auckland) and Robert Mizzi (University of Manitoba)

The upcoming Adult Education in Global Times conference offers an unique opportunity for adult educators from around the world to connect. This queer pre-conference will explore a broad range of topics that relate to sexual and gender diversity in adult and community education. We are keen to share scholarship related to sexual and gender diversity among a warm, engaged community of lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, genderqueer, two-spirit or queer adult educators, learners, or leaders.

We are also interested in the role of the straight or cisgender ally in queer adult education; queer pedagogy and curriculum; and queer or transnational sexuality perspectives on adult education. Researchers and practitioners are most welcome!

There will be no proceedings associated with this pre-conference. However, a New Directions in Adult and Continuing Education volume may be proposed based on selected presentations from this fabulous pre-conference.

Please send an abstract (up to 300 words, exclusive of title and reference list) of your presentation proposal along with a 50-word bio to robert.mizzi@umanitoba.ca by April 1st, 2020. Please also identify any technological or spatial needs that you will require to deliver your presentation in your proposal. We welcome any kind of presentation format.

There is no cost for this preconference. Lunch and coffee breaks will be on your own. A copy of the pre-conference program and room location will also be sent electronically once details are finalized.

Thank you! We looking forward to meeting you!
