

The chill of winter seems to linger on, but not for long, surely! There is so much to look forward to in March, not least, there is the chirping of the birds, the blooming of the flowers, and the tentative warmth that reminds us that spring is finally upon us. So in the midst of our daily routines, take a moment to savor all the transformations that are happening around us.

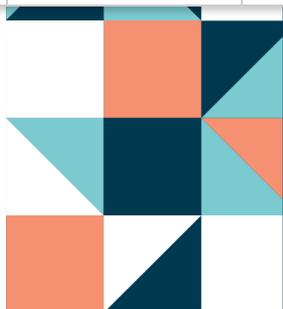

There is also Research Day coming up. A big THANK YOU to those of you who had submitted proposals to present on that day. The organizing committee will be in touch with you soon. Now, even if you are not planning to present that day, we hope you will join all of us and support your peers that day!

Enjoy March and Happy almost spring!

Time: 02:00 pm to 3:30pm

Guest speaker: Dr. Claudia Ruitenberg

Conference Presentations

Your conference proposal was accepted! Congratulations! But now what? How to prepare a compelling presentation? And how to present your paper in a way that is as engaging as you imagined it?

In this workshop, Claudia Ruitenberg will discuss how to prepare for conference presentations as well as how to present effectively. Topics include: differences between disciplinary cultures and presentation conventions; preparing notes, PowerPoint slides, and/or hand-outs; keeping to the allotted time; tips for avoiding presentation anxiety; and other questions about conference presentations are welcome!
