

Department of Educational Studies, UBC: List of Faculty Service Assignments for 2022-2023
(Updated November 4th, 2022 12:30PM PST)

Dear EDST Colleagues:

Greetings and hope this email finds everyone well.

Service assignments for 2022-2023 have been reviewed with an eye on opening up spaces for an efficient engagement with the tasks at hand. The following principles have guided the process:

1. Make uniform the number of faculty appointments on committees to three, save one exception -- Merit Committee -- given larger considerations related to representation of different ranks and drawing on departmental experience.
2. Ensure the inclusion of at least one Student Representative on each body (except in matters concerned with adjudication of admissions).
3. Open the possibility for Committees – subject to internal consideration – to decide whether they would like to meet online (Zoom) or in person, or determine the mode of meeting depending on circumstances.

Efforts were deployed to account for everyone's service assignments and to respond to each member's preferences. Further, I have consulted in cases where there were needs for service on committees other than the member's preferred options.

Two new committees have been introduced: The first – EDST Committee on Alumni Engagement – is student driven. It builds on the Diverse Career Paths of Educational Studies Alumni project led by PhD student Mary Kostdandy. It will be co-chaired by an EDST student and the Manager of the Faculty of Education's Alumni Engagement, with representation of alumni and one faculty member. Its mandate is to foster, enhance, and develop relations with EDST alumni over the years, open possibilities for pooling experiences and support between current members of EDST (faculty, staff and students) and alumni. The committee will also endeavour to design and introduce activities that would support the participation of EDST alumni in the department's life, prospects, and community building. This would include the publication of a seasonal bulletin. We will consider resources to support the work of this committee. The first committee members will work out the committee's terms of reference with the participation of all its members and in consultation with the GAA Team.

The second committee is an Ad Hoc Committee on Student Space in PCN. It is co-chaired jointly by EDST Manager Shermila Selgadoe and her LLED counterpart, Ana Susnjara. Its mandate is to review and assess existing student spaces, protocols related to their use, and how to promote these spaces as hospitable and community-building ones. This committee includes faculty and student representatives from both departments (EDST-LLED), as well as from the Dean's Office. Its mandate is for 2022-2023 only. Once this committee submits its report, a joint meeting for LLED-EDST will be organized in order to consider how best to act on the recommendations, preceded by EDST discussions.

I would like to express my gratitude to all those included in this list. Their readiness to step forward in bolstering the governance of our common home, EDST, is commendable, humbling, and inspiring. In the process of preparing the present list I encountered openness, good will, and collegial flexibility on the part of every individual. Thank you, Everyone, for a swift collegial collaboration, a great spirit in coming together, and thank you for responding promptly to queries, consultations, and the fluidity of options.

Your colleague, André
